BUPA DAM POWER HOUSE, GANESHGUDI.

Bupa Dam is built across Kali river in the state of Karnataka. The dam is situated at Ganesh Gudi. The power house at the foot of the dam has two electricity generators of fifty Megawatt each. The electricity generated is supplied to different parts of Karnataka. The dam was built by Hindustan Steel Works construction limited (HSCW) & is now operated by Karnataka power corporation limited. The power house was commissioned in 1985. Its crest gates were opened on Wednesday to release water to maintain a safe level at the dam. The height of the dam is 101 mtrs [333 ft] & its full water level is 564 ft.

Bupa Dam, said the full capacity of the dam was 147 tmcft & on Wednesday it had a storage of around 140 tmcft. "At 8 a.m. today, the inflow of water to the reservoir stood at the rate of 16,000 cusecs & the water level stood at 562.75. The water level at the dam has reached 95% of the full capacity & considering the forecast of further rains in the catchment area, we decided to release water from the reservoir. Presently are releasing water at the rate of 7000 cusecs. Tomorrow 8 a.m.

check the inflow again & subsequently decide on the quantum of water to be released. The water was first released from the dam in 1994 & then in 2006. KPCL, said water being released would be collected at Bommarahalli Pickup Dam, which had a capacity to store 2 kmft of water. This water would be utilised for power generation.

Total Marks Obtained:

Scheme

1. Answer: c

2. Answer: c

3. Answer: b

Explanation: Potential energy of large quantity of stored water is used by hydroelectric power plant to generate electrical energy. Head of water is important to get kinetic energy from that potential energy. Efficiency of alternator represents that what percentage of input mechanical power it can convert into electrical power.

4. Answer: b

Explanation: When water falls, potential energy of water is converted into kinetic energy. This kinetic energy is used to drive the turbine.

5. Answer: b

Explanation: Hydroelectric power plants are conventional source of energy. About 16.6% of total electricity and about 70% of total renewable energy of world is provided by hydroelectric power plants. They are not Non-renewable because water is inexhaustible. It is not continuous source of energy because its output fluctuates with change in flow rate of water with season.

6. Answer: b

Explanation: Hydroelectric power plants are generally constructed in hilly areas. These power plants are quite away from the load centre.

7. Answer: c

Explanation: In order to get sufficient head, hydroelectric power plants are constructed in hilly areas. In desert and flat areas sufficient water head cannot be obtained. Deltas are not suitable for this because of high sedimentation.

8. Answer: a

Explanation: Total Installed capacity 100MW

9. Answer: c

Explanation: Output of such plants is never constant. This is because of their dependency over flow rate of water in river which is seasonal. No fuel requirement low running cost and no standby losses are advantages of hydroelectric power plants.

10. Answer: a

Explanation: It is because in addition to generation of electricity they are also used for irrigation, flood control etc. Frequency control in such plants is done easily just by controlling flow of water to the turbine through valves and gates. Due to low maintenance cost and no fuel requirement running cost of a plant is very low. Water is not fuel.
